

'It was in these fields...seven centuries ago, that our forefathers first planted a seed of liberty which helped to spread across the earth the conviction that man should be free and not enslaved.'

HM Queen Elizabeth II, Runnymede, 1953